A MESSAGE FROM THE DIRECTOR

Artemisia was an artist who transformed art for women in history. She painted as no woman had before. She was ahead of her time and paid the price for it. Facing the same struggles as strong women do today, and without the recourse of social media, she used the medium of the canvas to express her pain and the violence of her male environment. Her work screams "ME TOO!", but to a then silenced audience. What happened to Artemisia and Tassi is a click away.

I was not best pleased with how history treated her and so I asked the magical question: "What if...."

What if Artemisia had allies, made up of other women who did not fit into the constraints their time had made for them? What if she was NOT alone? I encourage you to unravel the fact from the fiction, and to work to elect leadership that will strive to make this piece an obsolete work of truly Historical Fiction.

Lee Kizonas, Director

ABOUT THE PLAYWRIGHT

Lee Kizonas graduated Magna Cum Laude from Wheaton College with a BA in Theatre/Literature. She attended the Eugene O'Neill Theatre Center for a semester and did her graduate work at Trinity Repertory Conservatory. Her one act Butterscotch Karma was produced in Providence, Rhode Island at the Providence Gay Pride Festival and the Woman's Playwrights Festival.

As the Artistic Director of the Chameleon Theatre Company in San Francisco, she produced, acted in and wrote plays from a woman's perspective. Her writing takes on historical and contemporary women's issues with emphasis on less represented social and political perspectives. Killing Stalin, The Hanged Woman, and An Affair of Honor were produced in San Francisco by the Chameleon Theatre Company and DivaFest.

Artemisia was work-shopped at the Last Frontier Theatre conference in Valdez, Alaska in 2007. As a director, she was last seen at South Camden directing Joe Paprzycki's play, Express Tracks. Having never directed her own work before, she is eternally grateful to this amazing group of talented artists and dear friends who have breathed life and much better ideas into Artemisia.

Thank you!

Funding has been made possible in part by the Camden County Cultural & Heritage
Commission at Camden County College, through the New Jersey State Council on the Arts/
Department of State, a partner agency of the National Endowment for the Arts.

In partnership with our neighbors, the Center for Environmental Transformation seeks to educate people into a more environmentally responsible way of living on our planet. We sponsor local solutions to environmental challenges.

Urban Gardening • Environmental Retreats • Eco Interns

CFET operates a 24-bed retreat center as well as an Urban Farm with nearly an acre of ground under cultivation.

Our farm employs Camden youth during the summer months. They work the land, operate a Farmer's Market and learn about nutrition, entrepreneurship and more.

Attendance at the Retreat Center provides participants (mostly college students) with service opportunities and a heightened awareness of their responsibilities toward protecting our planet.
